

- I. Two potential architects have so far been identified.
- II. Two more additional nominations have been given for Judicial Board: Tom Gulzevan, Rebecca
- III. An email has been sent to Monica Taylor, who has missed three Gas.
- IV. Stephanie will work on improving the enthusiasm to new reps.
- V. PR will look into blow horns for our homecoming gimmick.
- VI. SLiCo will work on traffic and spray chalk tonight
- VII. East BLVD traffic to go into the USG newsletter next Monday
- VIII. Get stuff to Stephanie ASAP if you want it in the newsletter
- IX. SEC this week
- X. Committee assignments done after lunch
- XI. Meeting with Pres. Snyder went well...she wants to go to more student events, spoke about administrators, spoke about the athletic department issues
- XII. Retreat Recap
 - a. Personal Goals Session (Helpful): The session started with drawing a picture. The problem was that this killed the seriousness of the event. It may have been better if we started with discussing the importance of a representative and what a representative can accomplish. Once we figure that out, we can figure out what an individual representative can do to accomplish his/her goals.
 - b. Caucus Meeting (Very Helpful): It seems that the representatives are starting to embrace their caucus responsibilities. If Exec continues to stress the importance of the caucuses, representatives will start tackling caucus related issues. Each member of Exec needs to continue working and meeting with the caucuses.
 - c. In the future: Remember that the retreat is about the work we go there to do, not the high ropes. We need to make sure the activities fit around the work, not the other way around.